Hi,I hope this letter finds you well. My name is Carlos Escalona, and I am writing to express my keen interest in your company's remote Frontend Developer position. With a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science and proven experience in web app development, I am confident in my ability to contribute effectively to your team and help drive success for your organization.

Throughout my career, I have had the opportunity to work alongside remote teams, both in full-time and freelance capacities. My collaborative nature and adaptability have allowed me to excel in these settings. I invite you to view my work and explore my GitHub profile at www.github.com/Cjescalona1 to gain a better understanding of my range of skills and the projects I have been involved in.

My expertise lies in frontend technologies such as ReactJS and Next, and I am proficient in JavaScript tools like Node.js and Express. I am passionate about staying current with industry trends and best practices, and I am eager to apply my skills and knowledge to a new job opportunity. Though I am not a native English speaker, I possess a functional level of written and spoken English, which enables me to communicate effectively with colleagues and clients.

I am excited about the prospect of working with your development team and believe that my experience and skills align well with your company's goals and values. I am confident that my ability to create high-quality, maintainable code and work efficiently in a remote setting would make me a valuable addition to your team.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss my qualifications further and learn more about the Frontend Developer role at your company. Please feel free to contact me at your earliest convenience to schedule an interview.

Sincerely,

Carlos Escalona
